

Healthy and safe to your speech and language therapist. This is the way.

In response to the latest developments concerning the Corona-virus we are treating our clients face to face at our practice. We are following the guidelines of the RIVM (the National Institute for Public Health and the Environment) in order to be able to work safely and to prevent the virus from spreading.

NOTICE: You have to cancel your appointment at the practice if you or your child are positively tested on COVID-19 (corona) in the last 5 days or if you are in quarantine.

By the way, it is also possible to change your 'face-to-face' consult into an online consult, if you like.

At the practice it is important that we all follow these hygiene rules:

- Do not shake hands.
- Cough and sneeze into your elbow.
- Use paper tissues to blow your nose and discard them immediately after use.

At the beginning of the day the treatment room will be disinfected and during the day it will be ventilated. If necessary your speech and language therapist will use protective equipment (PPE) during your treatment.

Thank you for your understanding.
